In the debate on the league plank, which loosed a flood of bitter feeling, Senator Walsh of Montana seconded by Mr. Bryan, Sen-Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator Pomerene of Ohio, while the battle for the Administration was led westicut. by Senator Glass of Virginia, the committee Chairman. All who supported COCK of Nebraska. told the committee that hope of ratification without modification might as well be abandoned and that the wise course was to compromise.

It defends President Wilson's veto of the Budget Bill and advocates a budget system pavilally under direction of the Secretary of the Treasury with consolidated auditing.

It commends Démocratic administration side that it would play into the hands of "the destrine of hell." Another Administration member said it would appear as if the Democrats were "coming to terms" with the Republicans. Still another oppogent of Senator Walsh's amendment said that its defeat was tentemount to upholding the Lodge recervations, and that if the committee adopted the Walsh addition it "aught to put Senator Ledge in nomination here." POMERENE SUPPORTS THE

WALSH AMENDMENT. Senator Pomerene supported the Waish Amendment, declaring that the treaty had delayed peace more than a year, and that the honor of the Nation and its participation in the Longue plan for world peace should réquire prompt ratification. He declared that the League is such an advanced and important step toward world peace that it would be disastrous to loss the great opportunity by disagreement over reservations.

Although Senator Walsh is said to have conceded that Article X, of the League covenant would be destroyed by the Lodge reservations, he and Senator Pomerene told the committee that most, if not all, other important would remain.

Senator Pomerene asserted he had no apologies to make for his vote for ratification with the Lodge provisos. The Democrate, Mr. Pomerene declared, could not justify a position killing the treaty. Both he and Senator Walsh made it clear that the Administration plank plus the Walsh amendment did not go as far as they lesired but would present a better imue to the country.

An assertion by Senator Walsh that without his amendment the treaty would be lost and that with it ratification would be assured, was met by a statement of former Gov. Cornwell of West Virginia that he was opposed to action for more expediencey.

"God help the Democratio Party," Gov. Cornwell explaimed. "You will loss the respect of the American people."

During the debate Senator Glass and Mr. Bryan clashed over Mr. Bryan's published criticism of the sub-committee as a "secret" body. When Senator Glass objected to it

On the Prohibition issue the subcommittee made no recommendation and a big grist of proposed wet and dry proposals are offered, with Mr. Bryan leading the drys in a deter-mined crussade to keep the party from making a wet declaration or remain-ing silent on the Prohibition issue. That is unantisfactory to some of the committee members, who are making a fight for a plank pledging the party to recognize the Irish Republic. Other recommendations by the submornmittee included planks on taxation that it incorporates the language of the Virginia Demogrates in extolling its Federal Hesterve System and the financing of the war. On taxation it critisates the Republicans for falling to revise war-time tax schedules and demands a survey of tax conditions.

It was admitted by the McAdoo managers, and they are a cagey lot too, that the Smith outbreak had been the only one of the session with the appearance of disinterestedness behind it. Before long they had found the following replanation: found the following explanation:
"Gov. Smith was so warmly greeted because Mr. Cockran is a very able orator and he went further in lauding orator and he went further in lauding the Wilson administration than Tammany has ever before.

While the Cox and Palmer boomers were knocked back on their leels by the reception of the nomination of Gov. Smith, they almost took the count when they wilnessed the McAdoo hurrah. That was quite the most interesting of the day for several reasons, the chief of which was that it attended the nomination of a man who has announced that he does not want to run.

If, as the opponents of Mr. McAdoo allege, his declination to allow his name to be formally presented to the convention is part of a plan to further his nomination, the men managing his campaign are extremely.

Efforts in behalf of Homer Cummings are already being made. There is a distinct drift toward him as a second choice on the part of both McAdoo and Palmer men and even Cox supporters.

But thus far the lead is still held by McAdoo with excellent ohance that his following will grow from ballot to ballot and with excellent prospects, moreover, that the anti-Acdoo combination will never function has smoothly as its analogy at Chicago which beat Wood.
